Marshall in Toughest Talk Hits Russ Lies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—Secretary of State Marshall injected a new element of toughness today in this country's patient-but-firm policy toward Russia.

Charging that Soviet officials and their Communist allies are lying and know they're lying in a "brazen and contemptuous" propaganda barrage against his European recovery program, Marshall declared "it is time to call a halt."

"We do not propose to stand by and watch the disintegration of the international community to which we belong," the cabinet officer asserted on the eve of his departure for a face to face meeting with Russian Foreign Minister Molotov.

But while his speech in Chicago last night was his toughest yet as a cabinet officer, Marshall nevertheless pledged that his sole aim at next week's Big Four foreign ministers' conference in London will be to find a sound basis for a European peace settlement.

No Separate Peace Proposed

The secretary omitted any mention of the idea for making peace with Germany without Russia. Rather he said the United States will work for the creation of "a provisional central authority in a federated German state" as a step toward the final framing of a formal treaty.

For himself, he said, "No matter what the provocation," his only purpose at London will be to end the present "tragic stalemate and to speed the advent of a new era of peace and hope for Europe and the world."

However, Marshall said the American people have been goaded into "active resentment" by the campaign of "vilification and distortion of American motives in foreign affairs" waged by both Soviet officials and Communist groups.

"These opponents of recovery charge the United States with imperialist design, aggressive purposes, and finally with a desire to provoke a third World war," the soldier-diplomat declared, adding:

"I wish to state emphatically that there is no truth whatsoever in these charges, and I add that those who make them are fully aware of this fact."

"Truth Campaign" Indicated

Marshall thus appeared to be touching off the intensified American "truth campaign" which high government officials said earlier this month was in the making.

Without mentioning names, the cabinet officer took critical note of the "warmongering" charges Molotov's deputy, Andrei A. Vishinsky, has been leveling against many Americans at the United Nations general assembly.

"Today our people have been virtually driven into a state of active resentment and, having been goaded to this point, they are accused of having lighted and stoked this great fire of public resentment," the secretary asserted.

"This last is propaganda, yes, of the most brazen and contemptuous character. But since it affects the very stability of the world, it is time to call a halt to such inflammatory practices."

Vishinsky has included in his long "warmonger" list former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, who has proposed that if the Soviet-American stalemate remains unbroken at London the western powers should proceed to make a separate peace with that portion of Germany under their control.

The same suggestion has been

GOVERNOR TO CALL SESSION

Lawmakers To Remedy 9 Million Dollar Mistake Revealed in Court Ruling.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19—The Ohio supreme court ruled today that the legislature through a mistake had cut off the state highway department's funds for building state roads.

A special session of the legislature likely will be called immediately to rectify the error.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert declined to comment until tomorrow, pending a conference with Highway Director Murray D. Shaffer.

Estimated at $9,000,000

The legislative error deprived the highway department of at least $9,000,000 for construction of new state roads in 1947. Department officials are trying to figure out their loss for 1948.

The court ruled that the legislature had diverted all highway construction funds to maintenance and repair—to filling chuck holes instead of laying pavement by the miles. The legislature was attempting to set aside some gasoline tax receipts for cities to use for street marking and sidewalk construction.

H. D. Defenbacher, state finance director, estimated that under the old formula of distribution, the highway department would have received $26,100,000 this year from the gasoline tax, to be divided between new construction and maintenance and repair.

Into Different Channel

Under the supreme court's ruling, he said, it will receive only $20,913,000, all of which must go to maintenance and repair. The $5,200,000 difference, plus $4,000,000 originally earmarked for distribution to townships throughout the state for their roads, now goes to counties and municipalities.

Shaffer said his department could get through Jan. 1 on funds at hand, which he estimated tentatively at $9,000,000.

He pointed out that the ruling affects only state roads and leaves untouched $18,000,000 available for matching federal funds this year.

When the error was discovered the attorney general's department filed a test suit in the supreme court to determine the legal tangles and their effect. Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher refused to set aside construction funds from gasoline taxes on State Highway Director Murray D. Shaffer's request and the attorney general then brought suit in mandamus to compel him to set aside the funds.

DELAY GALION POWER ACTION

Council Makes No Move on Proposal To Purchase Generating Unit.

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 19—With no action by city council Tuesday night in Galion's critical power situation, it was learned today that Kenneth M. Petri, Galion attorney will file a suit to enjoin the mayor, the service director, the city auditor and the city from proceeding with the purchase of a diesel generating unit. Mr. Petri claims the purchase of the diesel is irregular because it was not advertised. The irregularity also is recognized by the Fairbanks-Morse Co. with whom the city had contracted for the purchase of the $110,000 diesel, and by City Solicitor Robert L. Moulton, according to a member of council. In view of this situation an ordinance had been prepared for council, last night, as emergency legislation for purchase of the diesel.

The ordinance did not reach the regular session of council, however, because it was learned that there would not be enough votes to pass it as an emergency measure. Council, meeting as a committee before the regular meeting, had heard the reading of the ordinance, a member said.

Large Audience On Hand

At least 60 interested citizens were on hand for the meeting. With no action by council on the power situation, and after the transaction of regular business, several citizens spoke from the floor regarding the issue.

Speaking first, Mr. Petri called council's attention to the fact that it had been two months since an ordinance was passed to bring in outside power to relieve manufacturers who have, since last spring, needed and asked for more power and for assurance of steady power. Another attorney, Carl J. Gugler, said he was sorry that Mayor William Amann was not present at the meeting of council because he wanted to ask him the question, "Why council's action has not been carried out?"

Richard Riblet, a citizen who spoke against the purchase of power from an outside utility, claimed that the citizens of Galion had expressed their interest in maintaining the Galion Municipal Light

DISTRIBUTE BALLOTS FOR RAIL STRIKE

By The United Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19—Distribution of strike ballots to 100,000 members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen was started today, and two other railroad unions reportedly were preparing the same move.

The action by the brotherhood indicated possible breakdown of direct contract negotiations now underway in Chicago between unions and railroad management.

The two other unions expected to mail out strike ballots were the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The three unions failed to follow the lead of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railroad Conductors, which last week reached agreement with the roads on a 15½ cent hourly wage raise and four rule changes.

The three unions taking the first strike steps were believed to have acted out in the Chicago negotiations largely because of a desire for time and a half pay for Sunday work.

Wedding Eve Excitement Thrills London; Twilight Prevue Held

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 19—Wedding eve excitement pervaded the rain-chilled air of London today as Princess Elizabeth prepared for a twilight rehearsal of her marriage tomorrow to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

Even the wedding ring, fashioned of a nugget of Welsh gold, will be at the Westminster Abbey rehearsal in the custody of the young Marquess of Milford Haven, who will be Mountbatten's best man.

High on the list of today's events, too, was the expected bestowal of a high title on 26-year-old Philip, who gave up his position as a prince of Greece and Denmark to become a British citizen and thus clear the path for royal romance.

Persistent unofficial reports said he would receive a dukedom, as the king's personal wedding gift, and there was speculation that the title would be either Duke of Clarence or Duke of Edinburgh, positions in the peerage that have long been open.

The announcement was expected in tonight's official London gazette.

Elizabeth left the morning free of official engagements so she could concentrate on the myriad last-minute details.

Picked agents of Scotland Yard, meanwhile finished their net of security precautions under the personal guidance of Ronald Howe, chief of the CIO, and Leonard Burt, wartime counterspy who now heads the Yard's special branch of subversive activities investigators.

Even the sewers of Westminster were to be searched for possible malefactors, and a wedding eve combing of government offices and private buildings along the route of the wedding procession was planned to detect any unauthorized person attempting to hide out overnight.

The weather turned warmer and spitting snow changed to a chilly drizzle with a prediction of milder temperatures, clouds and rain for the big day.

The London Daily Mail reported that offers of up to 50 pounds ($200) had been made by unnamed "rich Americans" attempting to get tickets to Thursday's ceremony in the abbey. Everyone has been refused, the paper said.

Police precautions extended also to the honeymoon mansion of Broadlands, near Romsey, Hampshire.

London grew jaunty with window boxes of bright autumn flowers and draped bunting along Whitehall.

ROMSEY WILL DECORATE

By The Associated Press

ROMSEY, ENG., Nov. 19—Aldermen of this village on the main route to Broadlands, where Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten will start their honeymoon, steadfastly declined today to erect a triumphal arch but bowed to popular demand for displays of bunting and flags.

"Princess Elizabeth and her husband will want nothing so much as a bit of privacy after the big show in London," said one of the aldermen of the town, 10 miles from Earl Mountbatten's estate. "We think they would appreciate it if we treated them just like everyday folk."

$8,000 JEWEL ROBBERY

LONDON, Nov. 19—The first major robbery to occur during Princess Elizabeth's pre-nuptial preparations was reported by Scotland Yard today—and a royal bridesmaid was the victim.

The Mayfair home of the Hon. Mrs. J. Bowes-Lyon, a relative of Queen Elizabeth, was burglarized after she had returned with her daughter, Diana, from a state ball at Buckingham palace.

Jewelry valued at more than $8,000 was taken, including a tiara and necklace that had been worn to the ball.

Miss Diana Bowes-Lyon will be a bridesmaid at Elizabeth's wedding in Westminster Abbey tomorrow.

Jewelry Store Is Burglarized

$1,000 Worth of Rings Stolen at Marysville After Window Is Broken.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 19 — The Hildreth Jewelry store here lost approximately $1,000 worth of diamond rings when a lone burglar broke the display window in the front of the store at about 8:25 last night and escaped with nine rings. The window was broken by throwing a large rock through the glass.

This is the second time in less than a year that the store has been burglarized, the previous one being last April when the burglary was performed in much the same manner. At that time, a rock was thrown through the window and about $1,000 worth of jewelry taken.

Harold Hildreth, owner of the store, was working in the rear of the store at the time. His attention was attracted by the breaking of the glass and by the time he got to the front of the store the man had started down the street. Mr. Hildreth said he chased him a distance, but was forced to stop when the man turned and pointed his arm at him saying: "Stop, or I'll shoot." Mr. Hildreth told officials that he didn't know whether or not the man had a gun. When Mr. Hildreth stopped, he said the man jumped into a car and drove away.

Mr. Hildreth described the man as being in his twenties, above average in height and weight and dressed in brown. He said the car was a late model.

After Police Officer Richard Simpson was notified, three rings were found along the sidewalk, apparently having been dropped by the robber.

Marysville police are conducting an investigation and several fingerprints have been found.

In the rear of the store at the time of the burglary with Mr. Hildreth was Merrill Vail, who assists Mr. Hildreth in watch repairing at various times. The jewelry taken was partially covered by insurance, Mr. Hildreth said.

EUROPEAN AID NEED STRESSED

College President Tells C. of C. Assistance of U. S. Is Imperative.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19—Dr. Rees Edgar Tulloss, National Lutheran Council president recently returned from an extended European tour, said today the Marshall plan "or some such plan, wisely administered" was the only way to keep Russia from taking over Europe.

Tulloss, who also is president of Wittenberg college at Springfield, O., outlined his impressions on Europe during a talk prepared for delivery at the 54th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

"Hunger, illness, hopelessness, suffering, and broken spirits make a fertile field for Communism in Europe," he said. "Every country there is distressed, depressed and concerned about the future."

Sees Chaotic Future

"If the United States does not consent to go to the rescue of distressed Europe, conditions there will become chaotic and Russia will take over the continent," he continued. "The Marshall plan, or some such plan, wisely administered, is the one thing which will enable Europe to lift herself up."

Dr. Tulloss listed three things as necessary to gain a lasting worldwide peace: (1) A wise international policy on the part of the United States, (2) every possible form of support of relief agencies by the United States, and (3) a renewal and strengthening of religious life.

He predicted that England's Labor government, which he described as "utterly inept, incapable and cowardly," would be turned out within 24 months.

The economic situation of France, he found "very discouraging," and said conditions there "will get a great deal worse before they get better."

Forest To Honor Mrs. Mary Naus On 106th Anniversary

Today, November 19, marks the event of the one hundred and sixth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Naus of Forest, O., who resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanton King in Forest.

No special family observance was planned, but the annual city tribute by the residents of the community was to be paid this afternoon as in past years.

Only the children residing in Forest of the five children living were expected to be present to help their mother celebrate her birthday. Mrs. Naus in the past several days has received a large number of gifts and cards from friends and relatives, along with a birthday cake.

As a part of the city's tribute, the entire student body of the Forest school, which consists of about 500 pupils, was to parade to the King home headed by the Forest High school band and assemble there along with residents of the community to extend greetings to Mrs. Naus and to her family. At that time gifts and flowers from various residents and organizations of the community were to be presented to Mrs. Naus.

Members of the Forest Lions club were also to be present to greet Mrs. Naus and present her with flowers.

On the occasion of Mrs. Naus' one hundredth birthday and each year since that time, the school has presented Mrs. Naus with a basket of flowers. This year it was to be a basket of orchid colored chrysanthemums. Mrs. Bert Jaquith, wife of the editor of the Forest Review, was also to present Mrs. Naus with flowers.

Pictures of the event were taken by the local Forest photographer as is done every year at the celebration.

Mrs. King said this morning that her mother has a slight cold and that she thought it would be impossible for Mrs. Naus to go outside for the city celebration.

The living children of Mrs. Naus are Alva, 85, of Springfield, the eldest son, Mrs. Belle Krout of Chillicothe, Mrs. Eva Conklin of Forest, Mrs. Cora Purdy of near Forest, and Mrs. King.

HEARINGS SET ON LIVING COST

Rationing, Price Control Not on Program, Sen. Taft Reports.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said today the senate-house economic committee will begin hearings Friday on points in President Truman's cost of living program, but proposals for limited rationing and price control will not be included.

Taft told reporters the committee has decided to exclude from its agenda, at least for the present, the rationing and price control points.

"I think that if we are going to get anything out of this special session of congress we will have to leave those points until the regular session," Taft said.

Taft earlier had told a reporter credit and export controls are the two recommendations by Mr. Truman most likely to win approval of congress in a program to combat inflation. He also said a modified rent control extension law might be passed by the Republican-controlled congress.

The Ohioan, an avowed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, has denounced the price-wage controls and consumer rationing proposals as "a step toward a completely totalitarian nation."

AFL President William Green declared in a broadcast last night that organized labor also is opposed to price and wage controls, except as a last resort in case of "national crisis."

Taft, who heads the senate-house economic committee beginning a study of the President's controversial proposals today told a reporter he thinks credit controls represent "a proper field for government supervision."

Meanwhile Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) announced that the house banking committee will begin hearings next week, probably Tuesday, on Mr. Truman's economic control programs.

Elsewhere on capitol hill, senate and house foreign relations committees continued their separate closed door studies of legislation to authorize interim foreign aid until the long range, Marshall plan can go into effect.

SAYS MEYERS LETTER WENT TO OFFICERS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—Maj. Gen. Junius Jones said today that Air Force commanding officers must take responsibility for what senate investigators have called an attempted "cover up" of an anonymous letter accusing Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers of irregularities.

Jones, chief air inspector, told a senate war investigation subcommittee that after it requested information in the Air Force files regarding Meyers, he put the decision up to Gen. Carl E. Spaatz, Air Force Chief, and retired Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, then Spaatz's deputy.

"When I presented all the facts to them, my responsibility ceased," Jones said.

The anonymous letter, received by the war department in 1945, purported to come from an Air Force officer, and said Meyers had made "immense profits" from wartime financial dealings.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) has protested that a copy of the letter was not among material given the senate group in response to its initial request for Air Force files on Meyers.

He said the senators did not get the letter until they learned of it independently and made a specific request for it.

The letter was made public last week during the committee's hearings on relations between Meyers, wartime deputy chief of air force procurement (purchasing), and war contractors.

Since then, the committee has

ARMY SETS TESTS OF HEAVIEST BOMB

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—The Air Force will begin test drops of the world's heaviest bomb—a 42,000-pounder—in about two weeks at Muroc air base in the California desert, it was learned today.

Twelve of the huge missiles have been delivered by the Army ordnance department for the experiments.

The modified B29 superfortress which will carry the record bomb load aloft is at Eglin Field, Fla. Its crew has completed a course of special training.

The mammoth bomb will be suspended from newly-devised shackles half in and half out of the lengthened bomb bay and will clear the ground by bare inches when the airplane makes its take-off run.

The bombs dropped at Muroc probably will be "duds," weighted to compensate for the lack of explosive charges.

In Clark county, Wisconsin, jail Buford Sennett (left) and Robert Winslow are handcuffed after surrender to authorities who surrounded a farm near Neillsville, Wis., where the two had held a family of four as hostages for 10 hours. Last night the men were sentenced to life terms in the Wisconsin state penitentiary for murder. TWO ORGY SLAYERS GET LIFE SENTENCES

By The Associated Press

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 19—Four frantic days which began with an orgy of lust and murder ended yesterday for two young ex-convicts with the tall gray gates of state's prison opening to receive them for life sentences.

Buford Sennett, 22, and Robert Winslow, 24, who gave up Monday night after a 12-hour siege in a backwoods barn, heard Superior Judge Roy Proctor say he wished he might order them hanged, as he pronounced life sentences on both. Wisconsin does not have capital punishment.

The two had pleaded guilty to charges of first degree murder in the hitch-hike slaying Friday night of Carl Carlson, 25-year-old father and University of Wisconsin medical student.

They also admitted raping Carlson's sister-in-law but were not charged in this connection.

Carlson's body was recovered yesterday morning at their direction, the warrants were issued, hearing was waived so guilty pleas could be entered and sentence pronounced. The two were on their way to the prison at Waupun last night.

Carlson, a Navy veteran, called for his sister-in-law, Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, of Cleveland Heights, O., a student at the University of Michigan, at the depot last Friday night when she arrived in Madison to attend the Michigan-Wisconsin football game.

They missed a bus and were hitchhiking to Carlson's home at Badger Village when they were picked up by Sennett and Winslow.

The girl told authorities in a statement later confirmed by both men, that Carlson was shot in the back of the head. His body was placed in the trunk and both men then raped her. Carlson's body was weighted with a stone and dumped into a tributary of the Wisconsin river.

The car became mired and the girl escaped.

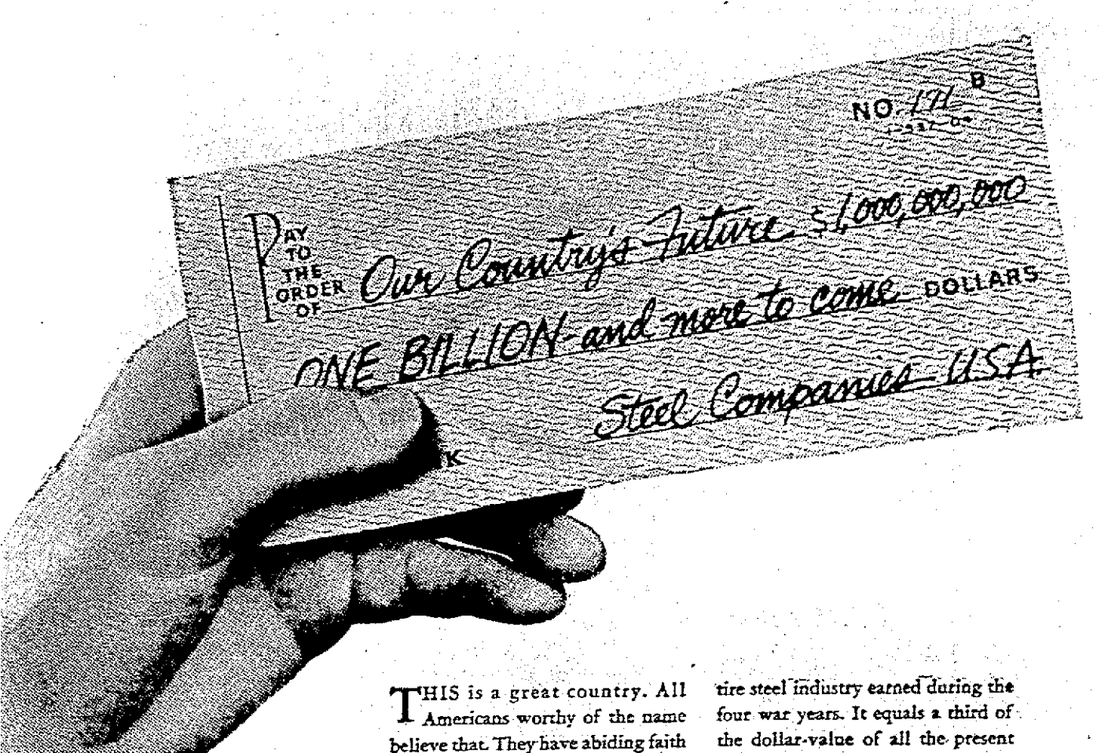
ONE BILLION DOLLARS INVESTED IN YOUR FUTURE



THIS is a great country. All Americans worthy of the name believe that. They have abiding faith that we will keep right on growing ... will become even greater.
American steel companies believe that, too. They are backing their faith with cash. They are now pouring ONE BILLION DOLLARS into expansion of steelmaking capacity. Few industries anywhere have ever launched so gigantic a program of peacetime expansion.
A billion dollars is more than the entire steel industry earned during the four war years. It equals a third of the dollar-value of all the present steel plants. Translated into production, it means 2,500,000 additional tons of steel a year for the homes, cars, and appliances America needs.
ONE BILLION DOLLARS deposited to the account of America's future!
Americans for years to come will draw against that account ... in the form of higher productivity, more comfort and prosperity.

There are 101 member companies of the Institute with plants in 173 American communities. They produce 96.3 per cent of the country's steel.

They also admitted raping Carlson's sister-in-law but were not charged in this connection.

Carlson's body was recovered yesterday morning at their direction, the warrants were issued, hearing was waived so guilty pleas could be entered and sentence pronounced. The two were on their way to the prison at Waupun last night.

Carlson, a Navy veteran, called for his sister-in-law, Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, of Cleveland Heights, O., a student at the University of Michigan, at the depot last Friday night when she arrived in Madison to attend the Michigan-Wisconsin football game.

They missed a bus and were hitchhiking to Carlson's home at Badger Village when they were picked up by Sennett and Winslow.

The girl told authorities in a statement later confirmed by both men, that Carlson was shot in the back of the head. His body was placed in the trunk and both men then raped her. Carlson's body was weighted with a stone and dumped into a tributary of the Wisconsin river.

The car became mired and the girl escaped.

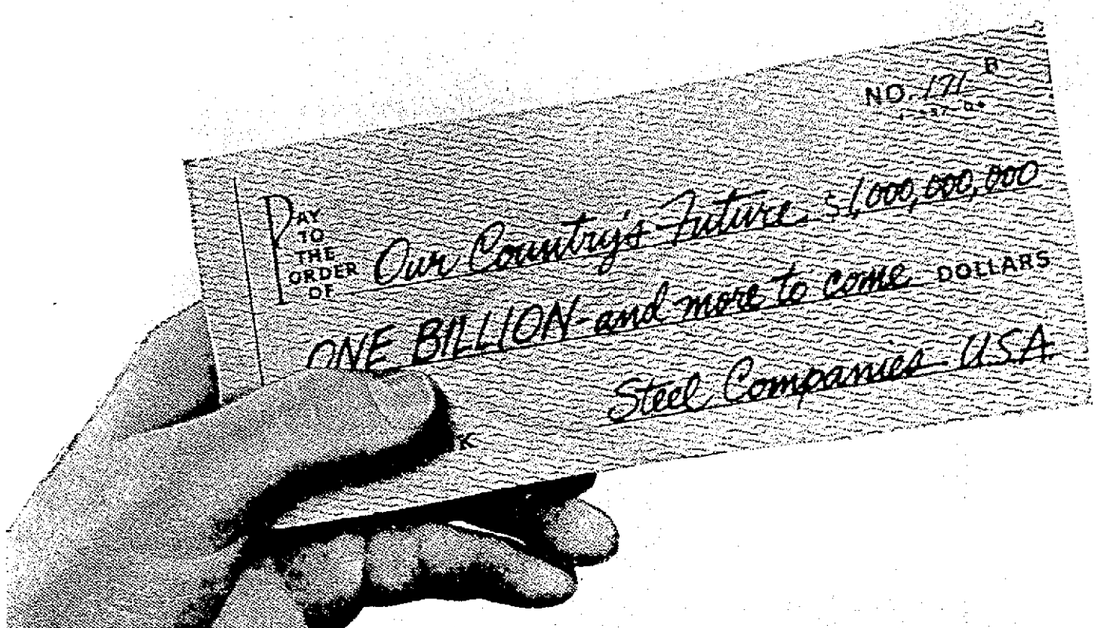
ONE BILLION DOLLARS INVESTED IN YOUR FUTURE



THIS is a great country. All Americans worthy of the name believe that. They have abiding faith that we will keep right on growing ... will become even greater.
American steel companies believe that, too. They are backing their faith with cash. They are now pouring ONE BILLION DOLLARS into expansion of steelmaking capacity. Few industries anywhere have ever launched so gigantic a program of peacetime expansion.
A billion dollars is more than the entire steel industry earned during the four war years. It equals a third of the dollar-value of all the present steel plants. Translated into production, it means 2,500,000 additional tons of steel a year for the homes, cars, and appliances America needs.
ONE BILLION DOLLARS deposited to the account of America's future!
Americans for years to come will draw against that account ... in the form of higher productivity, more comfort and prosperity.

'TREAT' RIDE SET FOR BOYS WHO PREVENTED WRECK

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19—Baltimore and Ohio railroad officials today announced plans to "treat" six teen-age boys to a ride on the fast passenger train, "The Cincinnatian," they saved from possible distaster Sept. 7.

The boys, all residents of Cozaddale in neighboring Warren county, will ride the train from here to Clarksburg, W. Va., and return in the evening on a sister train.

Scheduled to take the ride are Earl Ray Whirls, 14; David Allen Glass, 15; Keith Lanary, Lee Applegale, Russell Schultz and Robert Tagar, all 13.

They flagged down the speeding train as it approached a loaded coal truck stalled on a Cozaddale crossing. The engineer said, "There certainly would have been a derailment if we had plowed into that coal truck."

You Can Help Yourself Without Congress

The president spoke yesterday of his worries about the high cost of living

The President and congress can do but little about high prices without our cooperation. Our suggestion is that each individual set aside a percentage of income for saving and live on what is left. It may mean going without some purchases that are not entirely necessary, but, that should be no permanent hardship for as soon as commodities become oversupplied prices will be reduced. Save here first—buy afterward.

POLICE HUNT YOUTH WHO ESCAPED JAIL

Prisoner at Bucyrus Makes Getaway from City Prison.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 19 — Area police have been alerted to be on the watch for a 19-year-old Bucyrus youth who escaped from city hall jail here Monday night.

Glenn F. Albright, 19, being held for investigation on grand larceny charges engineered an escape via a route used in two previous jail breaks in recent years from the makeshift Bucyrus lockup, Police Chief Arthur Stuckert reported.

Having access from his cell to a closet beneath a stairway to the attic of the city hall, Albright pried loose a stair step and hoisted himself through the opening. Making his way to the attic, where he removed a small window. He then dropped to the roof of an adjoining building and made good his escape, believed by police to have occurred between 7 and 11 p. m.

He was being held after admitting recent thefts in Bucyrus including $50 from the Schine theater where he was formerly employed.

WHITNEY GIVES OK TO SOME CONTROLS

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, endorsed President Truman's call for selective rationing and price controls, but said he was opposed to wage controls now.

"Freezing wages at present levels will do many workers irreparable harm," he said at a press conference.

Of rationing and price controls, Whitney said:

"I don't like the thought of rationing but I don't know how to stop this monopolistic system from pricing us out of existence if rationing is not adopted.

"It's tragic this couldn't have been done before prices hit their present ceilings."

Reiterating his union's approval of the Marshall plan, Whitney said he had no intention of breaking his connection with the Progressive Citizens of America because that organization opposes the plan.

"I'm not nearly as much concerned about the danger of Communism to this country as the danger of American fascists," he said.

Asked to comment on the BRT's refusal to sign a non-Communist oath under the Taft-Hartley act, Whitney said there were Communists in almost every American institution as well as labor unions.

"I'm not Commie," he said. "I would fight any one who would question my loyalty to my country. We are not going to let Denham (Robert W.) get his hooks into us. We think the Taft-Hartley act is a monstrosity against labor.

"I'm not going to get down on my knees and sign an affidavit to satisfy a few American Fascists who want to wreck the American labor unions. There are a number of Commies in the Methodist church but I'm not going to get out of the Methodist church because there are a few Commies in it."

TWO FINED AT MT. GILEAD

Two men were fined for traffic violations by Mayor Booher of Mt. Gilead yesterday, the state highway patrol reported. Harold Smith, 22, of Mt. Gilead, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving an unsafe vehicle and William Lalande, 32, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was fined $15 and costs for operating a tractor and semi-trailer with insufficient lights. Both men were arrested by the state patrol yesterday.

Holt Speaks on Schools At Jr. C. of C. Meeting

A combined program and business session was held by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. E. E. Holt, superintendent of the Marion public schools, was the speaker and business included completing plans for the annual football banquet sponsored by the Inter-Club Council on Dec. 3.

Supt. Holt talked on "This Job of Education Today," in which he discussed educational programs and school problems of the present and told of the progress being made along these lines. In discussing the local picture Mr. Holt said the city has progressed toward better schools and school facilities, but reminded his audience there still is much to be desired and accomplished.

It was announced that members of the Junior Chamber should obtain their tickets for the football banquet from Cloyce O'Brien not later than Wednesday, Nov. 26. The resignation of F. Riley Hall as secretary of the junior group was accepted. Mr. Hall plans to enter college after the holidays.

OHIOANS SEE NO CHANCE FOR TRUMAN PROPOSALS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—Three Ohio Republican congressmen today saw no chance of action by the special session of congress on President Truman's demands for price and wage controls and rationing.

The three—Reps. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, Edward McCowen of Wheelersburg and P. W. Griffiths of Marietta—also told a reporter in separate interviews that they believed the administration's $597,000,000 estimate of stop-gap aid requirements for Europe was "too high."

RUHR INDUSTRY HIT BY WATER SHORTAGE

By The Associated Press

DUESSELDORF, Nov. 19—An industrial standstill in Germany's Ruhr valley is feared by British and American officials unless heavy rainfall ends the present critical water shortage.

Rivers, canals, reservoirs are at dangerously low levels after a long summer drouth, officials reports showed.

Hydro-electric power stations, cooling systems for industrial plants, water supplies for the coal mines and steel industry, water levels in the canals—principal means of transport—as well as domestic supplies are all affected.

German officials said the situation already was worse than when the famous Moehne dam was breached by RAF bombers in the war. That dam and its neighbor are still under repair and maximum water holding capacity has not been possible since they were bombed.

The two dams held reservoirs in the Ruhr river, the industrial Ruhr's main source of supply. So low did the river become, through the exceptionally dry winter and long summer drouth, that it has had to be supplied by pumping from the Rhine.

The 12 reservoirs in the Westphalian valleys now hold only 37,000,000 cubic meters of water instead of 264,000,000 cubic meters.

General Agreement

THE kind of publicity that has made "the Marshall plan" a household phrase has been lacking for the plan behind the Marshall plan—a vast document called the Geneva trade and tariff agreement. It will be passed on at an international meeting in Havana, beginning the last of this week, and ultimately must be accepted or rejected by congress. If it fails at any stage, the Marshall plan might as well be filed and forgotten.

The Geneva agreement is among 23 nations interested in the possibilities of averting war by making it possible for more and more human beings to trade with one another. This is to be done, of course, in the only way such a thing can be done—by keeping tariff barriers and other handicaps at a minimum.

Thus, the agreement gets into one of the touchiest issues of party politics in the United States—the tariff. The danger of reviving that old chestnut of the tub-thumpers and pressure blocs was illustrated last summer when U.S. wool interests heard the Geneva agreement proposed a solid cut in the protective tariff on their commodity, one of the reasons clothing costs so much. They promptly demanded that congress write a tariff increase on wool, which would have scuttled the whole agreement by confirming what many already suspected—that high-tariff Americans would never consent to any plan to encourage reciprocity in international trade.

It is unfortunate that the Geneva agreement has not been publicized, unfortunate that it doesn't lend itself to the sweet uses of publicity, because it is vastly more important in its long-range implications than the Marshall plan. The United States can't help Europe, or any other part of the world, without showing the beneficiaries of its help how they can help themselves. That is the purpose of the Geneva agreement.

The Time Grows Short

VETERANS are reminded that they have only until Dec. 31 to reinstate their National Life Insurance without taking physical examinations many would be unable to pass. Of the 14,000,000 men and women in service in World War II, 8,000,000 have allowed their policies to lapse. For six more weeks it will be possible to reinstate these policies upon payment of the premiums for two months and the signing of a statement that the insured is in good health.

The right to government insurance is a GI benefit too many veterans are passing up. Veterans' organizations and local VA offices will assist former policyholders in reinstating this inexpensive, worthwhile insurance.

Two Tainted Names

KIRSTEN FLAGSTAD and Wilhelm Furtwaengler, two musical personalities who have been unofficially persona non grata in democracies since the war's end, were in the news this week. Mme. Flagstad, greatest living Wagnerian soprano, appeared in Chicago without the hostile demonstrations which had marked some of her previous appearances. In Vienna, Furtwaengler, a renowned conductor, was set upon by former concentration camp inmates until a sentry's shot deterred them.

The futures of Flagstad and Furtwaengler have been the subject of debate among intellectuals and those interested in the arts. Unsurpassed in their respective fields, they probably will receive limited acceptance as the embers of war cool. But a stigma is on their names, a blight on their careers.

Paul Revere 1947 Style

SENATOR TAYLOR, the Idaho horseman, has finished his cross-country trip in the interest of peace. He cantered up to the capitol the other day after a trip from California via the southern route. It was only coincidental that while the senator was enroute there were outbreaks of violence in France, Italy and Palestine.

If keeping Senator Taylor on the road would serve the cause of peace, the venture would be well worth the investment. The only overhead would be for oats, victuals, fuel for the accompanying auto-trailer and an occasional string for the senator's banjo. It would be cheap at the price.

Ducks Limited

DUCK hunters are alarmed because of this season's shortage of birds. Many are spending days in the field without seeing a duck. In the far north thousands of acres of marsh and slough land were barren of nests last summer.

Ducks are in short supply for the same reason new automobiles are—there aren't enough to meet the demand. North America's duck population has been declining for three years and is below 110,000,000 while the five-day week has brought the number of duck hunters above 2,000,000. Ducks are in no danger of going the way of the passenger pigeon and trumpeter swan—yet. But a closed season for a year or more may be necessary. Reducing the limit from 10 to 4 and curtailing the season in some areas has had no noticeable effect.

Incidentally, lack of ducks is one shortage that can't be blamed on the failure of the steel scrap supply.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Industry Harmed To Aid Foreign Competitors.

THE only really effective job done by the Luckman committee was to shut down the American distilleries for 60 days. Luckman did not shut down the Canadian or the British distilleries, which have increased their output with a view to exporting increasing amounts to the United States. In a word, Luckman slapped down American companies and American workers in the interest of their foreign competitors.

He might have sought a universal agreement for a worldwide distillers' holiday or he might have been forewarned that such a program would have been unacceptable. The American annual consumption of distilled liquors amounts to $5,100,000,000, a little more than half of which goes into federal, state and local taxes.

SOKOLSKY

The idea behind the shutdown of the distilleries was to ease the export of wheat by saving corn at the time when it was most needed, supposedly the period until the beginning of November. By prohibiting the distilleries to buy the corn, this grain would be available to the farmer, who would then use it for feed instead of wheat.

What Happened

Actually, before the shutdown became a reality on Oct. 25, the department of agriculture and the commercial exporters had bought three-fifths to two-thirds of the highest amount of grain which they thought would be exported. We were told to save 100,000,000 bushels of wheat or its equivalent in other grains. It would seem that the European distillers and brewers of 10 countries estimated that they would require 71,000,000 bushels of grain for their purposes. Altogether 16 countries are involved, so that this estimate is low. In a word, the American people are asked to save about as much grain as the European alcohol beverage industry needs to use. And it makes no sense to say that they will use their grain for liquors and ours for feed. Nobody can make that kind of a separation.

Distillers, brewers and all other interested processors of grains, anticipating restrictions, bought aggressively in September and October. This added to the tightening of the markets. In fact, at the end of the year, it will be evident that no grain was saved in this manner, although the distribution may be slightly altered.

The American distillers deliver as remnants of the distilling process large quantities of feed. These "distillers' grains" are high quality feeds because little value in calories and vitamins is lost. In fact, some claim that in the manufacturing process, the amount of vitamin A is increased. Whether this is actually so or not is a scientific argument that I do not want to get into. The farmers who use this feed can no longer get it as the distilleries are shut down. They, therefore, have to use other feeds for their cattle.

Helped Foreign Distillers

When the Paris conference convened, the various countries were asked to give data about their use of grains. Ten of them stated, to repeat, their total intended usage for alcoholic beverages in 1947-48 as 71,000,000 bushels. Thus, by shutting down our distilleries, by restricting our breweries, by culling our poultry flocks excessively, it is made possible for foreign countries to produce alcoholic beverages equal to the Luckman program for saving grain. Great Britain is expected to use for distilling during the current year about 8,000,000 bushels of barley. When our distilleries were forced to shut down, the Scotch distillers declared that under no circumstances would they do so, as 75 per cent of their production was going to be exported and England needs this foreign currency badly.

It is not then a question of wheat, but of dollars. The European countries require dollars to purchase foodstuffs and capital goods in this country. Meatless, poultryless, eggless days save nothing in grains. Actually, there is a grain shortage in the world and if some are not to starve, those who have a surplus ought to help those who lack. But it is not necessary to bluff about it or to dramatize distress. Shutting down the American distilleries is sheer ballyhoo and is really unrelated to the subject, except that an American industry is being harmed in the interest of its foreign competitors, which is neither political logic nor sound economic policy.

At Least, He Could Have Made It a Pair

King George has made Princess Elizabeth a member of the Most Noble Order of the Garter as a wedding present.

A waffle iron would have been a sight more sensible.

The Most Noble Order of the Garter is an honorary, non-remunerative organization like the Brotherhood of Kentucky Colonels, only more exclusive.

Other than Princess Elizabeth, there are only three feminine members of the Most Noble Order of the Garter in the world. That's almost as limited a membership as The Admirers of John L. Lewis.

Male members of the Knights of the Garter wear theirs around one leg, while the women use theirs as an armband. Trust the British to do it backwards.

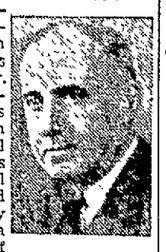
Of course, there's one thing about King George's unique wedding present. He can be sure she won't take it back and swap it for something practical.

Germany's Barter Economy

By Raymond Moley

A LONG letter from a German economist throws some light upon the real problem before congress. It shows clearly that it is not the amount of our lending that counts, but its administration. And it reveals how urgently Germany and, in fact, all countries of western Europe, need to stabilize their currencies before any aid can be effective.

Since a stable currency is the lifeblood of a stable economy, production and distribution are under a tension which becomes tighter every day. All available purchasing power is concentrated on the few vital commodities which are still being produced and which barely suffice for a minimum of existence. Some prices in Germany are still on the basis of 1936, a base fixed by Hitler for price control. Hence, the exchange of goods had degenerated into the swapping of goods. The German's letter supplies a number of examples of this primitive form of economic life.



MOLEY

A furniture dealer in the Rhineland got hold of a carload of coal. He sent this coal illegally into Southern Germany to a furniture factory and got, in return, some bedroom and kitchen furniture. This he managed to transport to the Rhineland and sold at extremely high prices to the best paid workers there, the miners.

Another man, an owner of a factory, was able to get a quota for some bituminous coal. He found that he could get along without this realatively good coal by using "coal mud," which is not under a quota. Therefore, he turned his good coal over to a cement factory, which supplied the cement necessary to reconstruct his plant.

No Money Involved

Paper—just paper, not paper money—accompanies the exchange of money. No retailer will sell without getting scrap paper in return. A doctor, before giving a prescription, must have scrap paper in exchange, usually old newspapers. A paper collar is impossible to get without scrap paper in return. School children cannot have textbooks and writing materials without scrap paper. The height of this paper exchange is shown in the fact that money orders are purchased not for the normal reason of exchanging currency, but to get the paper on which the order is written.

Urgent Need for Goods

The writer of the letter emphasizes, of course, the urgent need of American goods. This is to be expected of any German who has a way of communicating with this country. He stresses the disastrous results of some of the postwar restrictions. There can be no reconstruction of transportation, he says, or of electrical production without high quality steel. And fine stele has been prohibited under the Potsdam principle of checking the war potential. Hence, such machines as exist are used to excess. There are more and more breakdowns, and more and more time is lost for repairs.

Germany, as well as France and Italy, must stabilize its currency by internal action. No Marshall plan can do that from without. Germany did it in the 20's, after the great inflation. It can do it again, if in the final analysis, it is compelled to do it as a prerequisite of American aid. Europe must supply the conditions under which any aid can be effective.

The Night of The Soul --- 1

By Joseph Alsop

BERLIN

IN THESE times, it is sometimes impossible to understand the political process without exploring the dark places of the soul. Precisely such an exploration is necessary, to grasp why the Soviet Union can not and will not agree to a German peace settlement on terms acceptable to us; and why the Western powers can not and must not agree to a German settlement on Soviet terms. There is proof enough of these conclusions in the following facts, culled from the vast mass of carefully checked official data available here on the Soviet terror in eastern Germany.

ALSOP

The iron foundation of the iron Soviet control of their zone of Germany is a system of concentration camps more extensive than that established by the Nazis. Some of the old black names recur. Buchenwald, Sachsenhausen and Fuenfeichen are all again in full use. And besides these, there are camps at Jamlitz, Frankfurt on Oder, Turgau, Muhlberg Elbe, Altenburg Elbe, Buntzen, Altenhain, Oranienburg, Berlin Hohenschoenhausen, Schwerin, Ketchendorf, Doebeln, Unterwellenborn, and Freiburg. The smaller camps in this grim roster contain from 8,000 to 10,000 men and women. The full-scale establishments of the M.V.D. hold from 15,000 to 255,000 souls. In all, at this moment, a population of 200,000 is now contained in these places of death.

Places of death they are, moreover. One camp concerning which reliable figures have been obtained—Ketchendorf which holds 8,000 prisoners—has an average rate of fifteen deaths per day. This is about 5,500 death per year, a death rate rather more than two-thirds of the inmates annually.

Deaths in Other Camps

In the other camps, roughly similar death rates are known to prevail. Thus the Soviet terror quite probably takes an annual toll of in the neighborhood of 150,000 human lives in an area with a population of about 18,000,000. If the police of New York state annually put to death 100,000 New Yorkers by torture, or exposure or starvation, or all three combined, the situation would approximate that now obtaining in the Soviet zone of Germany.

Nor are these men and women thus condemned to death in life or death itself, the same who are stained with guilt for the Second World war. It was two years ago when the Soviets conducted their great round-up of former Nazis, landowners and business men. Of those then caught, many have been de-Nazified by the simple expedient of joining the Communist-front Socialist Unity party. And of the remainder, the great majority must either by now be dead or transferred to the work camps in the Soviet Union, which is the equivalent of the death penalty. The majority of the new population of these places of death in eastern Germany is composed, rather, of Socialists and others who are suspected by the secret police for reasons quite unconnected with the past.

Names cannot be used, since the intelligence services of the Western powers chiefly learn of individual cases from the despairing families of the victims. Yet even an anonymous sampling of the stories of the vanished helps to make the black figures on camps and death rates more compresensible by civilized men.

Seven Who Vanished

Seven students prominent at Berlin university as members of the Christian Democratic party were walking together down the Unter den Linden. M.V.D. agents halted them, placed them under arrest and took them away. They have not been heard of since.

The Landerat of a Thuringian kreis, a loyal Socialist, resisted the totalitarian tactics of the Socialist Unity party at election time. He was arrested for "sabotage and corruption." He has not been heard of since.

In Saxony-Anhalt, Soviet military government ordered local German business men to buy building materials and structural steel in the West German zones at black market prices, for the account of Soviet-owned factories. When the goods were delivered, the business men were charged with black market operations, prosecuted and heavily fined. The old-fashioned German bureaucrats in the land finance administration ventured to argue that the fines should go into the land treasury. A subordinate escaped to tell the tale. His chiefs have not been heard of since.

Costly Complaint

In Brandenburg two members of the works council in a factory at Henningsdorf ventured to send a letter to the local newspaper, complaining of the food situation. A little later, they did not come to work in the morning. They have not been heard of since.

But no purpose is served by indefinitely multiplying these brief stories, each one of which conceals a dreadful infinity of ruthlessness, of cruelty, of terror and of heartbreak. Enough has been related to begin to give some insight into the meaning of the night of the soul.

Daily Bible Thought

It takes a big man to forgive and forget injuries. Measure yourself by this rule. Joseph was big enough to forgive and forget: "And now be not grieved, nor angry with yourselves that ye sold me hither."—Gen. 45:5.

Steamed Up

By Truman Twill

Some think the sure sign of winter closing in is a moo-cow mooing "White Christmas" on the radio, but with this writer it's a cloud of steam rising from a frozen automobile radiator. When that happens it's time to get out the fleecies.

Many conveniences have been provided to tell the jackasses who take charge of automobiles when it's time to worry about the radiator, but nothing's ever done until the temperature drops abruptly the night before the day when don't something about the radiator is at the top of the must-do list.

All the newspaper and radio advertising, filling-station beavers who want to be of service, well-meaning friends and dictates of conscience are wasted. The radiator must wait until the grim day when it's frozen tight.

This has been going on for upward of a third of a century, beginning at a time when there were two known ways to do anything about a radiator: (1) Drain it and (2) Keep the engine running 24 hours a day with a hood over the radiator. Novembers have come and gone with dreary regularity and so have the frozen radiators that ushered in another hard winter.

Fords, Hudsons, Stars, Chevrolets, Reos, Plymouths, Whites, Willys-Knights and Doris have come and gone. There have been shattered honey-combing, ruptured hose connections, cracked blocks, stuck pistons, fingers frozen in frantic endeavors to keep blankets in place on windswept steppes, windshields spattered with rust water, near-misses on monoxide poisonings in garages, hard words between friends, nasty recriminations and anxious moments in one-horse filling stations, livery stables, church sheds and farmers' barns.

Anti-freeze has been brought from a status of something stirred up in a pail and said to contain kerosene, honey, illicit liquor, glycerine and juniper juice, to standardized mixtures pumped out of a barrel at so much a quart and guaranteed not forever but not at all.

Automotive engineers have done everything in their vast power to take all the hazards out of operating an automobile, including neglect of the radiator, but they still have found no way to eliminate the hazards implicit in the make-up of the flop-eared fools who always wait until the radiator freezes up.

Only once the routine changed. That was the year the anti-freeze was put in early. Then the weather stayed warm until January. The anti-freeze evaporated and was never replaced. The radiator stayed frozen up that year until a warm day in March. On a wartime A-card it wasn't possible to go anywhere anyhow.

Sheriff LeRoy Retterer and County Prosecutor James E Reed have each contributed $100 as a reward, the amount already advertised on the "flyers" distributed throughout the nation.

Leaders among the Kellis friends in raising a reward fund are Rev. Melvin Truex, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union at 821 North State street, Robert Dull of 181 Wallace and Clyde Payne of 384 Lee street.

Petitions are in circulation stating that the money donated is to be paid for a reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Mrs Gerbes and that all money will be refunded donors should the murderer be found dead or not found at all.

No specific sum has been mentioned as a goal but whatever is contributed will be added to the $200 already posted.

Reward Request Denied

Sheriff Retterer within a week after the Marion woman was slain, asked commissioners to authorize a reward for Young's arrest and conviction. The commissioners denied the request. A second appeal made by the sheriff several weeks ago also was rejected.

Lee Kellis, step-father of the slain woman, expressed bewilderment at the refusal of the commissioners to post a reward for Mrs. Gerbes' slayer. "They posted a reward for arrest and conviction in the Rosie Green murderer and they posted a reward for information concerning the little Peterson girl who was lost at Waldo I can't understand why they consider the murderer of my daughter any different from any other case," he said.

CANCER CONFERENCE REPORT GIVEN HERE

Work at Marion Clinic Receives National Recognition.

At a meeting of the Marion County Cancer society Saturday at Hotel Harding, a report was made of a training conference of the Ohio division of the American Cancer society at Columbus in October, attended by representatives from Marion. Mrs. George E. Planck, who attended with Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, past president, and Dr. A. E. Morrison, gave the report.

Mention was made of the fact that nearly 400 persons have been examined since opening of the cancer clinic at City hospital last and it was brought out that much done by this clinic, new procedure which has been found satisfactory here, has in a number of instances been recommended by the national organization to be used elsewhere. This was an illustration of the way the national setup is greatly assisted by local units in many communities.

Other points stressed concerning the fight against cancer included statement of the importance of education in this field, and of the newest branch, research, in which scientists are working on the answer to the abnormal growth of cells of the body, "which is called cancer." The statement was made that "the hope of the future is in the volume of projects undertaken" in research, and in the realization of individual communities that cancer is a community project.

The attack on cancer is progressing in the sense that everyone is hearing about it, was one of the points spoken of by leaders in the field who placed emphasis on bringing an optimistic outlook to the public. In line with the idea of what is being done in dealing with the problem, the two-range goal of the National society was mentioned. This was named as the long-range goal of finding definitely both cause and cure of cancer, and the short-range goal of using facilities available in local communities to add to the forward strides in the entire widespread effort. The meeting Saturday was attended by doctors of Marion and the county, health nurses and others in the community who have become especially interested in working in this particular field.

NO SOVIET UNION GIFT IN ELIZABETH'S DISPLAY

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 19—Most of the world's governments and heads of states, large and small, have sent wedding gifts to Princess Elizabeth, but the name of the Soviet Union was lacking today in the official inventory of presents.

A member of the Lord Chamberlain's department, which is in charge of the display in St. James' palace, said no wedding token had been received from the Russian government, any of its leaders, or ordinary Soviet citizens.

The sole Russian representation is an ornamental match holder in the form of a toadstool mounted with a silver frog, given by the exiled Prince and Princess Vesvolodge, long-time friends of Philip Mountbatten's family.

Sojourners Lodge Elects New Officers

Wilfred F. Schweinfurth was elected worshipful master at a recent meeting of Sojourners Lodge No. 653, F. and A. M. Mr. Schweinfurth, a member of Marion Chapter No. 62, R. A. M., and Marion Council No. 22, R. and S. M., succeeds George F. Stafford as head of the lodge.

Richard A. Maxim was elected senior warden; Floyd B. Burtch, junior warden; J. J. Stafford, treasurer; J. H. McCurdy, secretary; Clifford B. Welch, senior deacon; Franklin P. Eyster, junior deacon; Thomas E. Reed, tyler. George F. Stafford was named a trustee for three years and Earle C. Johnson was named a representative to the temple board.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

The Treatment of Acidosis

We hear a lot of loose talk these days about acidosis, but few people really understand what it means.

To get the picture, try thinking of the body, with all its many systems and complex activities, as a delicately adjusted scale in which one thing is matched against another to give an unstable but constant equilibrium; or, as a tightrope artist who would fall from his wire in a moment if he ever stood still.

Nowhere is this more true than of the blood, that complex and wonderful fluid in which alkaline substances are matched against acids to make possible the complicated reactions by which we live. To doctors, this equilibrium of the blood is known as the acid-base balance and, if it is seriously upset one way or the other, we get into all sorts of trouble.

A good many different diseases can cause acids to pile up in the tissues faster than they can be eliminated. Other conditions tend to reduce the body's store of alkaline substances unduly. In either case, acidosis results.

Diabetic patients have a tendency toward acidosis. It may develop in otherwise healthy people who drink alcohol to excess, or it may be a complication of starvation, heart attacks, and severe asthma.

Alkalosis occurs either from an oversupply of alkaline substances, such as baking soda, or from loss of acid during severe and repeated vomiting.

The symptoms of acidosis are loss of appetite, a feeling of tiredness, muscle pains, headache, sickness to the stomach, vomiting, cramps, and rapid breathing. There is a loss of fluid from the blood as a result of vomiting or fluid accumulating in the body tissues. The rapid breathing and loss of blood fluid are the most serious symptoms.

Alkalosis causes lightheadedness, dizziness, sickness at the stomach, and headache. As the condition becomes more severe, there may be muscle spasms and, at time, even convulsions.

The treatment to be given for these conditions bears, in large measure, on the causes of their appearance. For example, in chronic kidney inflammation or chronic arthritis, acidosis is treated by the giving of fluids by injection into a vein or under the skin. A mixture of salt solution and glucose together with sodium lactate is often employed.

When acidosis occurs in the diabetic patient, he is given injections of insulin every half hour and from a quart to a quart and a half of fluid by mouth. This fluid is made up of glucose and orange juice, together with salt solution and water. If the patient is unconscious, or there is sickness at the stomach and vomiting, the fluids are given by injection.

In acidosis which develops from alcohol poisoning, the sodium lactate is employed. This, too, may be given by injection into a vein. An alkaline diet following all injections of glucose or salt solutions into a vein is helpful.

In acidosis which occurs during heart failure a diet limited in salt should be used.

Either condition, alkalosis or acidosis, may be serious. Whichever condition is present should be promptly recognized and treatment started at once, the type depending upon the cause of the disorder.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. A.: My daughter will be three years old in March. During the winter she gets a choking cough. What causes that, and is there a cure for it?

Answer: Coughing attacks may be produced by a number of disorders. The condition may be due to asthma, to inflammation of the throat, the larynx, or windpipe. A careful study should be made by a physician to determine the cause, so that proper treatment can be suggested.

Half of White Males Guilty Of Sex Offenses, Survey Shows

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 — More than half of the white American males would have been in jail at one or another times in their lives if sex codes and laws were strictly enforced and everyone caught.

But this does not mean the country is getting worse sexually, for this finding, part of a study released today at Indiana university, shows also that sex in this country is following its usual and traditional courses.

The study shows that violations of the moral code and of some legal restrictions, such as homosexuality, are much more widespread than most people have thought.

This investigation is the most extensive attempt which scientists have yet made to discover what people actually do sexually. It began nine years ago, has covered the confidential sex histories of 12,000 men and women, coast to coast, and is planned to go finally to 100,000. Only the American males are included in the present report a book of more than 800 pages, to be published in January by W. B. Saunders Co., medical publishers, Philadelphia.

Authors of Report

The authors of the report are Dr Alfred C. Kinsey, professor of zoology, Indiana university, and Warded B. Pomeroy and Clyde E. Martin, research associates. The study is sponsored by the medical division of the Rockefeller Foundation, medical division of the National Research Council and Indiana university.

Dr. Kinsey, says the scientists believe that whenever the facts are accurately known, men and women and society as a whole may ultimately benefit. The sex life histories are from all classes of ordinary Americans, from college professors to men unable to read or write. They include religious and non-religious, and children and men aged 90.

This book is the first of a planned series, which will include women's sex lives, racial groups, marriage, sex education, sexual behavior, sex offenders, prostitutes and legal controls.

Fragmentary reports previously made in the study on females show that one outstanding fact will be that women mature sexually, much later than men, and sometimes do not reach this particular peak until the thirties.

No Judgment Passed

Dr. Kinsey says that the investigators had to convince those to whom they talked that they were passing no judgment on moral or social activities. The book also passes no judgments of this sort.

Dr. Kinsey says the reports are accurate to within three to five per cent, and that errors, if any, are in understatements rather than in exaggerations of facts.

Starting with young children it was found that the little ones are capable of being aroused sexually and of acting very much like adults. Children more often get their information about sex from their companions than from their parents.

By the middle teens, a boy's sex habits are largely established and do not change much thereafter throughout life. Leaving home does not make much difference to these young men, and even war experience does not seriously change the already fixed sexual characters of young men. They will do only about what they would have done at home.

and Power plant in the recent election. This statement was disclaimed by President of Council Otto Pfeifer who said that the candidates had not definitely declared themselves on the issue. Others who asked for action to relieve the power situation included M. D. Bonsteel, and Merritt C. McElroy.

Cites Factory Problem

One manufacturer, Ralph Cobey of Perfection Steel Body Co., explained the position of his company by stating that the company has been looking for expansion in another city. He said that no more manpower can be used at the Galion plant because of the lack of electric power and undesirability of night work for both workers and management. He also stated that his company has taken definite steps to secure its own power for the present plant which will be maintained here.

The board of control, comprising Mayor William Amann and Service Director K. A. Poister has under consideration two bids for supplementary outside power from the Ohio Power Co. and the Ohio Pubic Service Co. Decision on the bids has been held up until legality of the purchase of the diesel has been decided.

MARSHALL

advanced by Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the senate foreign relations committee.

Points Emphasized

But in his own review of American foreign policy problems at a joint session of the Chicago council on foreign relations and the Chicago association of commerce, Marshall stressed these points:

1. Soviet-American differences are due largely to a "divergence of purpose concerning the future of Europe," rather than any direct clash between their national interests.

2. If Europe is restored as a solvent and vigorous community, the conflict with the Soviets, as far as Europe is concerned, will lessen.

3 The near-collapse of Europe since the war has created in effect a political and economic vacuum which it is "certainly not our purpose to exploit" by filling it with American power. Instead, the United States is working with governments of many political complexions in the effort to restore Europe.

4. On the score of imperialism, Russia since 1939 has annexed some 280,000 square miles of territories with a population of 22,000,000 people, whereas the United States and Britain have voluntarily contracted their areas.

Coal production in the United States during 1946 would have filled 79,000 miles of railroad coal cars.

State of Ohio, Superintendent of Insurance, Certificate of Compliance—The undersigned, Supt. of Ins. of the State of Ohio, hereby certifies that The MILLERS MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY of Harrisburg, State of Pennsylvania, has complied with the laws of this State applicable to this class of Companies and is authorized during the current year to transact in this State its appropriate business of insurance on the mutual plan. ROME, Nov. 19—Strong detachments of Italian police and infantry frustrated attempts of Communist insurgents today to take over three towns of Apulia province, after other units crushed a so-called "Red revolt" in the Bari provincial town of Corato.

Communist efforts to take over Molletta, Barletta and Ruvo were thwarted by the forces sent into Apulia province where a strike of farmhands now is in its third day.

Frightened residents of Corato continued to flee the hills, even though the Ninth Italian infantry regiment was firmly in control after defeating the Communists there.

PARIS, Nov. 19—A spokesman for the Socialist party announced today that former Premier Leon Blum had agreed to try to form a new government.

Mollet, considered a member of the left wing of the Socialists, said he believed a new cabinet would be formed within a few days to succeed that of Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier.

TRINITY EVANGELISTIC SERVICES UNDER WAY

A special series of evangelistic services began at the Trinity Baptist church Monday night with Rev. H. S. Wilson, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of Akron as the guest preacher and Rev. Robert A. Maugans, pastor of the Fite Memorial Baptist church of Marion leading the congregational singing. Special musical numbers at the service on Tuesday night were an accordion number by Rev. Maugans and a male quartet composed of F. H. LeMasters, D. H. Gorman, I. H. Taylor and C. M. Gorby. Mrs. Fred Smith will sing a solo at the service tonight, and Nancy Tower will play a piano solo.

Rev. Wilson began the series with a sermon on "A Commissioned People" and spoke on Tuesday night on "The Crusade of Evangelism," in which sermon he stated that "the motive of evangelism originated in the love of God while the vehicle of evangelism has always been redeemed souls who are consecrated to the task. The Holy Spirit supplies the dynamic which inspired God's people and brings convictions of sin to the unbeliever."

The topic of the sermon tonight will be "Try, Try Again" and for Thursday night "In the Spirit of Expectancy." The Men's Brotherhood will attend the service in a group on Thursday night.

JOHNSTOWN LOAN HOLDUP PAIR SOUGHT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19—The state highway patrol and other central Ohio authorities renewed their hunt today for two men who held up the Johnstown Savings & Loan Co. in the Licking county village yesterday noon and escaped with $2,000.

The Licking county sheriff's office said the men apparently got through road blockades yesterday afternoon and evening. None of the bank employes or other witnesses were able to give a good description of the escape car, deputies said.

The robbers, one of them carrying a briefcase, forced employes into a back room of the bank. While one guarded, the other stuffed bills and coins into the briefcase.

Police checked a possibility that the men were the same ones who robbed the Citizens' Federal Savings & Loan association in Marysville of $5,000 April 29.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19—Mrs. Louise Lenert, 20, of McArthur, died early today, a few hours after she and her husband, Willy, a GI sophomore at Ohio State university, were found unconscious in their trailer home, overcome by fumes from a gas heater.

Lenert is in critical condition in University hospital.

A neighbor, Mrs. Madeline Rusk, said the heater was burning when she and another neighbor, Mrs. Jean Green, entered to investigate why the Lenert's automobile was still in front of the trailer after midnight.

Mrs. Rusk said Mrs. Lenert had been ill last night and had been attended by a physician just before midnight. Hospital physicians said Mrs. Lenert was an expectant mother.

ROTARY CLUB GREETS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

R. C. Remy of Mansfield Here for Official Visit.

Robert C. Remy of Mansfield, district governor of the 157th district of Rotary clubs, was speaker at the weekly meeting of the Marion Rotary club at Hotel Harding, Tuesday. It was the occasion of his official visit to the club.

Mr. Remy is president of the Albert R. Remy Wholesale Co. of Mansfield and is a former president of Rotary club there. During the war he served as a lieutenant-commander in the U. S. Navy.

His talk was on "Program of Rotary," telling the aims, objectives, and purposes of organization.

He said Rotary started as a luncheon club in Chicago in 1905 with only five members. It grew so large within a few years that decision was made to adopt service aims and objectives.

The first national convention was held in Chicago in 1910. Arthur Sheldon was principal speaker and one of the main thoughts of his speech was "Service Above Self." This was later accepted as the Rotary motto.

In the morning preceding the club meeting Mr. Remy held a conference with local officers and committee chairmen.

Guests of the club were Newton Cunningham of Marion and Fred G. Coluorue of Columbus.

Jack Rubins was student reporter from Harding High school this week.

Jones' testimony delayed the recall of B. L. Lamarre, president of the company, Aviation Electric of Dayton, O., who has given the bulk of that testimony.

It was Lamarre who told the committee yesterday that the company paid Meyers more than $94,000 during 1941-1942, including $34,810 24 to clear up loans made to the firm by the general.

I hope ... Lawd can untwist that ... and get some meaning ... for nobody on earth ...

"I get you," I said laughing ... utterance of the long- ... of slang, "and I am most ... for the soothing unguent ... scorched skin. I am also ... for the reminder about ... Graham. But—do you ... that Faith will have to ... the party? Her grandmother ... weight, I think, if anyone ever comes to visit her at ... hospital and doesn't bring ... along."

"Of course Faith must be there," Katharine agreed promptly. "But, it will take a bit of doing, in ... the fact that your father ... you to tell your mother-... about Georges and the ... buried Transvanian treasure ...vation."

"If you can solve that one, you ... a real descendant of the ... witches," I told her.

"One thing is in our favor," Katharine said. "Mother Graham ...ives on excitement, which ...kes it unnecessary to limit the ...ber of her visitors, or the time ... stay. She is almost ready to ...e home anyway, isn't she?"

"Yes," I answered. "The cast ...me off her leg some time ago. ...e is now learning to walk ...n, and making very good prog...s."

"She would," Katharine said ...h the admiration in her voice ...t we all feel for doughty, in...mitable Mother Graham. "So we can 'stagger' our visit," ...e went on, " as they do traffic. ..., yes, I'm going to be the party, ...hough I don't flatter myself that ...ther Graham would go into a ...cline if I weren't present. But I ...nt to be in the corridor, so ...t if Mary needs me, I shall be ...hand."

I looked at her with curiosity, ...ged with both fear and disapproval.

"You're afraid for Mary?" I ...ked, voicing the fear first.

"Not a bit," she said, and I ...ow, if she were not so perfectly ...ntrolled that annoyance would ...n her voice. "But—I'm still her ...se, in charge of her. Dr. ...itchell hasn't dismissed her case ...t, although he probably will any ...y now. It's part of my duty to ...e with her wherever she goes. I ...pe I make myself clear."

"You do," I told her, wrinkling ...y nose at her, "and you have ...ed my mind, if that is any ...isfaction to you."

"Immeasurable," she said, and I ...rried on.

"Here's one where I'm in the ...iddle," I told her, "Do you mean ...tell me that you're going to stay ... the hospital corridor, and not ... in to see Mother Graham? ...e's never forgiven you."

She looked at me with cool ...praisement.

"Somebody must have conked ...u on the beam when you were ...ro," she said. "Of course I'm go...g in to see your mother-in-law. ...ut not until after Mary has had ...er chance to see her grand...other alone. Remember, they haven't seen each other for over a year, and they ought not to have auditors."

"My apologies, Madame," I said. "But I want further words of wisdom from you. When in the course of our visit, do you think I ought to tell Mother Graham about Georges?"

Her reply was prompt.

"The very first thing, Dicky,—of course he'll be of the party—Faith, Mary and I will wait outside while you go in, tell your mother-in-law what's cooking, and also bring her up-to-date about Mary. Of course she knows only part of the truth about Mary, I hope, I hope."

Obituary

★Ethel Estella Quaintance Welch, born May 23, 1903, in Marion, Ohio, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Crock Quaintance and Orlando J. Quaintance, departed this life November 6, 1947, at the age of 44 years, 4 months and 14 days.

Mrs. Welch spent most of her life in Marion. Ethel was united in marriage to Levi E. Welch on November 12, 1922. Had she lived until November 12 she and Mr. Welch would have celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

She is survived by her husband and one son, Jackie Lee Welch, her mother and father and one sister, Mrs. William Davis of Mansfield, Ohio, two brothers, Gerald Quaintance of 462 Olney avenue and Donald E. Quaintance of 427 Pearl street.

Early in life Mrs. Welch became affiliated with the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church and maintained her membership until her death. She was a member of the Berean Bible class of this church.

Ethel was esteemed by all who knew her. She was a kind and devoted mother, thinking always of her family first without consideration of herself. Truly it may be said that "to know her was to love her."

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in time of trouble." Since He in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to take from us a kind and loving dear one, may we rest secure in the belief that He knows best and that "He doeth all things well." Furthermore, may we rest assured that our loss is Ethel's gain. Realizing the futility of mere human power over life and death, and with a full assurance of God's great mercy and compassion, we, the family, solemnly commit her into the care of her Maker.

"Savior, while our hearts are bleeding
With the sting of our great loss;
Take dear Ethel to Thy bosom,
See that she gets safe across.
"Safe across twixt earth and heaven,
She has earned her heavenly fare.
We know that she will smile and greet us
When we're called to meet her there."

REPORT FARM CO-OPS SEEK WHEAT PLAN OK

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—Farmer cooperative marketing associations were reported today to be seeking government approval of a plan designed to induce farmers to turn loose wheat they are now holding off the market.

Farmer resistance to releasing the wheat now is based on (1) the wish to avoid adding to income tax liability for this year and (2) hope that prices will go higher later.

One government official said the plan advanced by the co-ops calls for:

1. Farmers to turn over their wheat to co-ops in return for a certificate calling for payment next year.

2. The co-ops to sell the wheat and invest the proceeds in wheat futures—contracts calling for delivery at specified future date—for which the co-ops would get money next year to reimburse the farmers.

Current and future wheat prices are pretty close together at about $3 a bushel. If prices were higher when deliveries were due under the future contracts, the co-ops would get the benefit of the advance and pass it on to the farmers. The plan assumes that prices will not fall by delivery time.

TRUMAN PLAN HIT BY SMITH

Marion Congressman Opposes Marshall Aid and Restoration of Controls.

Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion in statements to the house of representatives has taken a firm stand against the Marshall plan for aiding Europe as well as the request of President Truman Monday for restoration of controls over prices and strategic goods.

Following the President's message to the reconvening of congress Monday he said there should be no doubt in the minds of the American people respecting the intentions of President Truman's administration.

Congressman Smith told the house: "The powers which the President asks the congress to grant him, together with those which he already possesses, would for all practical purposes be as great as those which Mussolini and Hitler were able to inveigle their countrymen into surrendering to them."

"The President stated that price inflation threatens our entire program of foreign aid; that we cannot abandon foreign aid; and that we cannot abandon our own people to the ravages of unchecked inflation."

"He well knows that much of the present inflation in the United States is being caused by providing foreigners with billions of dollars which they are using to buy our goods and, in so doing, bid up domestic prices. To prevent further inflation, he asks to have price control and rationing restored. Among other things he also asks for the power to seize the grains held and owned by the farmers so that he may ship them to foreign countries. To cure the inflation which the administration's foreign give-away policy is causing, President Truman asks the American people to surrender their liberty and divide their standard of living with practically all of the rest of the world. I, for one, shall not go along with this program."

The following day Smith told the house: "Whoever is for the so-called Marshall Plan, or anything that smacks of that plan, is of necessity for the President's proposal to enslave the American people, which he put before the Congress Monday.

"Pass the Marshall plan and compliance with the President's request will follow as night follows day.

"With ever-mounting shortages of vitally needed supplies and increasing prices, caused in great measure by giving away so much of our goods to foreign countries, the carrying out of the Marshall Plan would inevitably exaggerate these evils. These forces—and not the congress—would determine the issue of price controls, rationing, and regimentation in general.

"President Truman and his strategists know this.

"Is the Republican party going to permit itself to be tricked into betraying its pledge to the country to save the nation from regimentation by supporting the Marshall Plan?"

COLLEGE STUDENT FOUND GUILTY OF ARMED ROBBERY

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Nov. 19—Roy Conway Blackburn, 29-year-old Ohio State university pre-medical student, today faced a mandatory 10-to-25 year sentence for armed robbery.

A jury of nine women and three men found him guilty last night of the $31,000 armed robbery of a B. F. Goodrich Co. paymaster last June.

Defense Attorney Stanley Denlinger immediately filed a motion for a new trial and Common Pleas Judge Stephen C. Colopy indicated he would hear the motion next week, then pass sentence if the plea is denied.

Colopy denied a request for bond. Blackburn, father of four small children, was taken to the Summit county jail.

A former Goodrich employe, Blackburn was arrested at Columbus, where, the prosecution charged, more than $10,000 of the stolen money was recovered. About $19,000 was found cached in the Goodrich plant.

Musical Numbers Mark Special Church Service

Another in the series of Christian Fellowship week meetings being held at the Prospect Street Methodist church was conducted last night with the speaker, Mrs. Irene M. Ihde of Paterson, N. J., talking on "Is Prayer Sentimental Folly or a Great Force?"

An outstanding musician, having formerly appeared on the concert stage, Mrs. Ihde is presenting a special organ composition preceding the services each night, and also gives a special vocal number during her service.

Prior to the service last night, she played Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," and later sang the song which Gypsy Smith made famous, "Just Dreaming." At the close of her talk, Mrs. Ihde gave a musical reading, "My Lord and I," playing her own composition.

Special music was by the Northside Mothersingers, directed by George Wingett. Their numbers were "We Gather Together," "Steal Away," and "Fairest Lord Jesus." Mrs. Ihde instructed the congregation in singing theme choruses.

At tonight's service, 'Family-Sit-Together" night will be observed, and Mrs. Ihde will play on the organ, preceding the service, her own arrangement of several well known compositions, including "The Rosary," "Ave Maria" and others. As a part of her service, she will play "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff to which she will recite the 91st Psalm.

Mrs. Ihde also announced that preceding the Thursday night service, she will repeat the "Poet and Peasant" overture on the organ, and Friday night, also before the service, she will repeat "The Storm" from the overture "William Tell" by Rossini.

WAR VETS' MEETING SET TO PLAN WORK ON BONUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19 — War veterans' organizations were invited by the American Legion today to meet here Friday to work out ways of helping the state administer the veterans' bonus approved by the voters Nov. 4.

Commander A. J. Halloran of Springfield recalled that Legion posts handled much of the paper work for the bonus paid after the first World War, as well as "a large share of the applications for terminal leave pay for World War II veterans."

The Legion also extended an invitation to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans, and the AMVETS.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, who proclaimed the new bonus amendment to the state constitution effective Monday, said last month that it would be at least four months before the state could start issuing checks to veterans.

DON'T LIKE VIDEO, SAYS FIGHT CROWD

L. A. Manager To File Damage Suit Against Television.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19 — Television has reared a controversial head in the boxing game here, and the fight crowd is positive about one point.

They don't like it, and one manager, George Parnassus, has engaged an attorney to file suit for damages in what may become an important test case for television and its application to sports events.

It would be directed, he said, at the Hollywood Legion Stadium and the television people, and based on televising one of his fighters in action last Friday without his or the fighter's consent.

Parnassus said he had refused to sign a waiver granting permission for the television and had told the stadium officials he would go to court "as a favor to boxing in general and your club in particular."

"I am told there are already 13,000 sets in this area alone. Most of them are in public places. Any one can drop into a place and see the fights for the price of a bottle of beer.

There are no commercial sponsors of television now. "But there will be," argued Parnassus, "and who do you think will be taking control of boxing? Who will be making the matches? I'll tell you—Toastie-Crunchie Dog Foods, or the Strange Case of John's Other Wife."

He said the nation's standard time schedule would permit a sponsor to televise a fight in New York, move on by the clock to Chicago, and wind up the evening with a televised match out of Los Angeles.

"They would attract millions of television viewers and keep those same millions away from 'live' matches from New York clear across the country.

"With television cutting in, limiting the number of matches, the number of boxers, the clubs eventually will have to shut down and boxing will be a dead duck."

Gun Club To Hold Open House Friday

The Prospect Rifle and Pistol club will hold an open house to the public Friday night in their range above Gehm's Furniture store in Prospect.

Shooting awards will be given marksmen at the open house.

The gun club is celebrating the final establishment of the indoor range they have been working for since 1941.

TOM LOTRECCHIANO, Ohio Wesleyan backfield ace has played every backfield position for the Bishops this season. An All-Ohio contender, he'll probably start at quarterback against Oberlin Saturday.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—The college baseball coaches who have been maneuvering toward a "no tampering" agreement with professional baseball may suffer a rude jolt at the major league meetings next month....The executive committee put the matter on the agenda without recommendation, then Branch Rickey, who has talked in glowing terms to the American Association of College Baseball Coaches, apparently sounded a warning in a talk to the Harvard Varsity club...."We are honest professionals," said Branch. "But colleges throughout the country grab some boy who looks like an athlete, offer him a scholarship and take him away from the big leagues."....One answer might be that even those scholarships merely delay a boy's entrance into pro ball if he really has the stuff....Some one might also point out that Rickey's Dodger organization lost $20,000 this year on one pennant-winning class "D" ball club and that it would be cheaper at that rate to let the colleges develop the material for him....But the heck of it is that, if the big leaguers start attacking the vulnerable points of college sport, there won't be any one at the meetings to speak for the defense.

STEVE OWEN, the football Giants' coach, was talking the other day about a $10 bet he once made with a pal as a result of a chin-wagging session .... "We gave the money to Art Hooney as stakeholder," Steve explained. "Rooney didn't know what to do with the $20 so he bet it on a horse.....A week later we each got a check for $125 for our share of the bet—and our original $10 still was up."

Marion wrestling fans are in for plenty of "Blood and Thunder" Thursday night at the armory when Capt. Mike Mihalakis and Paul Orth tangle in the two hour main event. Here are the two wildest and roughest men in the game and their two hour main event is an aftermath of their tag team match last Thursday which proved to be one of the wildest ever seen here. Paul lost a fall to the Captain but was able to help win the tag match. For the one hour semi-final, a couple of faces who haven't shown here for some time will make a come-back. Balk Estes, the clever kid from Elk City, Oklahoma, will take on the rough Rex Mobley of Alabama. All matches will be for the best two out of three falls. BALTIMORE BIDS FOR MAJOR FRANCHISE

Colt Owner Interested in St. Louis Browns.

By The United Press

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19 — Bob Rodenberg, president of the Baltimore Colts of the All-American Professional Football Conference, said today that he is trying to get a major league baseball franchise for Baltimore.

Rodenberg said he has been negotiating for the purchase of Dick Muckerman's interest in the St. Louis Browns, and admitted that it was the first step in a possible plan to bring a major league franchise to Baltimore. He said that the whole plan depends greatly on whether or not Baltimore gets a new stadium.

The Colts' president said he planned to attend the major league baseball meeting in New York Dec. 9 and that "I have a proposition to offer." He explained that in the meantime he would talk to officials of the Baltimore Orioles of the International league.

Rodenberg said he had talked over the idea with Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators and that Griffith was "delighted" with the proposal. He said that Griffith thought that games between Baltimore and Washington would develop a great rivalry and would make an interesting series.

RICE CENTER NAMED LINEMAN OF WEEK

Joe Watson Hailed as Best in Southwest Conference.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 19 — Joe Watson, of Rice, hailed as the greatest center in the Southwest Conference since Texas Christian's Ki Aldrich a decade ago, was selected today as the football lineman of the week in The Associated Press poll.

A 223-pounder, Watson contributed a sterling game against the Texas Aggies. His blocking on offensive and line-backing on defense had press box observers buzzing. Scouts for Texas and Texas Christian expressed the opinion he is the best lineman they have seen this year.

Watson is the fifth lineman and third center to be honored this fall. The others: Jay Rhodemyre, Kentucky center; Bill Swiacki, Columbia end; Bobby Davis, Georgia Tech tackle, and Chuck Bednarik, Penn center.

Bednarik, candidate for All-America center, played the full 60 minutes for Penn against Army on Saturday. For the West Point Cadets, Captain Joe Steffy turned in one of his better performances. His partial blocking of an attempted field goal kept Penn from winning.

Bill Kay, Iowa tackle, was another 60-minute player, somewhat rare in these days of quick substitutions, in the upset over Minnesota. Other high commendation went to Quentin Sickles, Michigan guard, and Moroni Schwab, Utah State tackle.

Against Denver, Schwab played a "whale of a game." John Baker, Denver line coach, asserted the "guy's a big block of granite—with maneuverability."

MANNING ON PROGRAM

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 19 — Tom Manning, top-notch sports broadcaster of radio station WTAM, Cleveland, will be the guest speaker on the Varsity "U" program to be held Dec. 4 in the High School auditorium. The evening's program will be broadcast from 8 to 9 over radio station WMRN, Marion. Leon McCorkle, of this city has been selected as master of ceremonies for the evening.

SUB RULE OPPOSED

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 19 — Athletic Director Don Peden of Ohio university today joined the group opposing college football's unlimited substitution rule. He said boys no longer cared if they were in the starting lineup, because they knew they'd get in for at least part of the game.

SHORTSTOP VERNON STEPHENS (left) and Pitcher Jack Kramer of the St. Louis Browns have been traded to the Boston Red Sox for seven players and cash.

Boston Red Sox Continue On Player-Buying Spree

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—The Boston Red Sox continued bolstering their cripple-crammed pitching staff today by acquiring Ellis Kinder from the St. Louis Browns, and the Pittsburgh Pirates launched their avowed rebuilding job by getting outfielder Johnny Hopp and second baseman Danny Murtaugh from the Boston Braves.

The Sox got Kinder and infielder Billy Hitchcock from the Browns for infielder Sam Dente, pitcher Clem Driesewerd, a player to be announced later, and an undisclosed cash amount, believed to be about $20,000.

The Pirates got Hoppa and Murtaugh in return for outfielder Jim Russell, catcher Bill Salkeld and pitcher Al Lyons. No cash was involved.

The Red Sox deal was the second the team made with the cash-hungry Browns in as many days. The St. Louis team gave the Sox shortstop Vernon Stephens and pitcher Jack Kramer for seven players and a sum which Cleveland president Bill Veeck said was $300,000. Veeck had been trying to make a deal with the Browns when the Red Sox trade was announced he said last night.

After the acquisition of Stephens and Kramer, it was obvious that Joe McCarthy, new manager of the Sox, would go after more pitching strength to recoup the weakness injected when Dave Ferris, Tex Hughson and Mickey Harris went bad last season.

Kinder obviously is one of the answers. A 33-year-old right-hander from Atkins, Ark., he won eight and lost 15 for the Browns last season. He went the distance in 10 games and pitched two shutouts.

Managers who received letters were: George Zaebst and James Cass. Awards to cheerleaders went to Nancy Murphy, Joyce Hayden, Arthur Wenninger and Evelyn Bearden.

The program was closed with a moving picture of the Ohio University-Butler university football game.

VEECK SPEAKS TO GALION KIWANIS

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 19—Sports enthusiasts swelled the ranks of the Galion Kiwanis club to 75 at the club's luncheon - meeting here Tuesday noon to hear Bill Veeck, manager of the Cleveland Indians baseball team.

Veeck entertained his listeners with humorous and informal discussion of his players. "I wanted to drum up a little more business," he said in reference to his visit to Galion. "I'll come back again, too, anytime anyone wants me," he said.

The speaker, besides telling about each Indian player, referred to the Lou Boudreau situation in his discussion: "I am still getting indignant letters from fans," he said. Jokingly, he said "Bob is my boss," when he discussed Bob Feller among the other players of his team.

He asked his listeners to give him tips at any time on outstanding players in this vicinity or any other. "I want Galionites to be my Scouts," he urged.

At the close of this talk, he answered questions about his team and the players. He predicted that he would have a much improved team next year.

The program was in charge of Bill Freeman.

Bucks Bid On "5-4-2 Sieve" To Stop Bowl-Bound Michigan

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19—If Ohio State university's football Buckeyes do the improbable and spoil Rose-Bowl-bound Michigan's perfect record Saturday at Ann Arbor, most of the credit probably will go to the defense the wags here call "the 5-4-2 sieve."

Coach Wes Fesler installed the unique defensive set-up when he took over at O.S.U. this fall, and, with exceptions dictated by such items as goal-line stands, the much-beaten Bucks have stuck with it despite howls from the fans.

Defense has been the order of the day this week in Ohio State's practice as Fesler plots ways of stopping Bob Chappuis, Chalmers "Bump" Elliott, Jack Weisenburger, Howard Yerges, et al. And it's still the "5-4-2."

Want To Stay No. 1

Michigan, of course, will be out to run up as big a score as possible on the Buckeyes. For not only is Ohio State the Wolverines' bitter rival, but Coach Fritz Crisler's crew hopes to remain in the No. 1 berth nationally and give the versatile Chappuis the Big Nine's total offense and passing crowns.

Chappuis carried off the total offense title last fall primarily by the way he personally engineered Michigan's 58-6 rout of the Buckeyes in the season finale.

Chappuis now has 712 yards by passing and rushing in five league games for an average gain of 142.2 yards a contest. Last season, Bullet Bob won the total offense crown with 1,039 yards in seven games for an average of 148.4.

A proficient performance against State also could give Chappuis the passing title. He currently is second to Perry Moss of Illinois. Moss has a .608 mark on completions, Chappuis an even .600.

The scoring championship may be decided in the Ohio State-Michigan game, too. Michigan's classy breakaway artist, Bump Elliott, currently is deadlocked for for the lead with 30 points.

The only ray of sunshine in State's camp this week was Scout Jack Graf's report on the Northwestern - Michigan game. The Buckeyes' only league win was over Northwestern, and the Wildcats scored 21 points on Michigan. No other team has managed that many points this season against Coach Fritz Crisler's perfectionists.

Fesler said he planned to stick with the same unit that has carried the brunt of the work in State's last three games. Some of the injured players may get in, too. Right half Bob Demmel practiced yesterday, apparently none the worse from a bruised calf.

LEAHY AGAIN SAYS HE'LL STICK WITH NOTRE DAME

By The United Press

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 19—Frank Leahy assured Notre Dame officials today that he would remain at the institution as head football coach and athletic director as long as they wanted him.

It was the second time in less than a week that Leahy denied rumors that he would leave the Fighting Irish. The second denial followed a report by a Chicago radio announcer that Leahy was about to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams professional football team.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

DO you blackjack your child into reading what you liked when you were a kid or what you think he ought to like?

Or do you treat him as an individual with likes and dislikes different from yours and with interests in reading that are different, too?

You liked Sir Walter Scott and his long-winded, padded-out, phony Ivanhoe? Maybe your kid will like it.-If he doesn't, don't force it down his throat.

MARLOW

Maybe you liked stories of Indians Okay, for you. But maybe your kid would rather read a book on chemistry Let him read it.

That is the point Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher, American novelist and grandmother, tried to make this week.

Since we're moving into the Christmas season, with a lot of books being bought for children, some of Mrs Fisher's ideas are given here.

Writing a stimulating piece on choosing books for children in the New York Times book review section on Nov 16, she said

"Whenever anybody speaks about the art of choosing books for children, I ask 'What children?

"There are as many different kinds of readers among children as among adults, naturally, since children are people"

Mrs Fisher, who lives in Bennington, Vt, looked back over her own life and said·

"Among my own children one devoured eagerly every available fairy tale, the more fanciful the better Another found it a boring waste of time * * *

"WOULDN'T A BRILLIANT success have been made if somebody had tried to choose books for them without knowing them individually

"No, there is no set rule of thumb for choosing books for this or that child which can be followed by parents as a cook follows a recipe, beating her eggs and thinking about something else

"To help your children to the right reading, right for them, requires everything you can bring to the effort—and rewards you with one of the most golden of all ways of sharing life with your sons and daughters * * *

"I am sure that a good deal of the youthful resistance to our well-meant adult reading inculcation comes from our approaching a child with the particular kind of book he does not like and has as much right to dislike as we have to dislike books not to our taste.

"IT IS MUCH WORSE than merely useless to try to force poetry on a child reader who would enjoy how-to-do books"

Mrs Fisher suggests that when you choose a book for a child it would be good to have some idea of his taste, temperament and development.

But suppose you're puzzled about the kind of books your child might like. Can you get some help in choosing them?

Mrs Fisher points out you can ask for help from the child's teachers, or from the local librarian or from the department of education of your state

The departments of education in the various states, she says, always have book-lists of "supplementary reading" for children of different ages

She says

"Not the most isolated farm, ranch or tenement home but can profit by one or another of these guides to the world of books for children"

WASHINGTON

THE question today is whether there was a monogram on the lap robe we bought—we taxpayers, I mean—to warm the feet of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, while he was riding in his royal blue, four-door Fleetwood Cadillac sedan.

We paid for this vehicle, too—through war contracts—although we didn't realize it at the time The fact is a hefty chunk of our war bond money, which we thought was going for fighter planes, bought ultra-modern furniture for the general, pile carpet to soften his footsteps, four air-conditioning units to keep him cool in the summer, and a phonograph de luxe to sooth his nerves

OTHMAN

The general, of course, didn't drive his sedan himself We furnished him a sergeant from Bolling Field as chauffeur. We were so generous to the general, in spite of ourselves, that the senate war investigating committee still is trying to discover exactly how he wangled it

It wasn't easy. Gen. Meyers awarded war plane contracts He also operated via assorted corporate dummies the Aviation Electric Co and—the sworn evidence shows—whenever he wanted some money, or a Cadillac, or whatever, he had the president of his corporation write a check, or bring him the cash

This involved some fancy bookkeeping The $10,000 worth of furniture, rugs and drapes in the general's apartment was listed as selling expenses. The $700 radio set went down on the books as office equipment Air conditioners for the general's bedrooms, he called engineering expense

THE CADILLAC AND its lap robe (with or without monogram) officially was known as company cars and trucks Bleriot Lamarre, the blond young man who functioned as president of the Electric company, a sub-contractor for the Bell Aircraft Corp, told the details of doctoring the books A series of tradesmen confirmed the selling prices.

It turned out that the general already owned one Cadillac, a brown one. But he wanted another and he insisted that it be painted blue. The Capitol Cadillac Company sold it to him on Dec 31, 1941—the day before new automobile sales were frozen—for $2,-995 70. It also delivered him $116 worth of accessories.

'What kind of accessories?" demanded Sen Homer E. Ferguson of Mich, the chairman

"Very few," testified automobile salesman Vernon M Knox "Some anti-freeze, a spare tire and tube and—according to the records—a monogrammed lap robe"

"What was the monogram on the robe?" asked Sen Ferguson "Did it say Aviation Electric Co?"

"No sir," replied salesman Knox, "it did not."

SO THE AFTERNOON droned on with testimony about secret cash payments to the general's pals his war contracting company finally Sen. Ferguson called a 1 minute recess. The bald-headed general squashed his gray felt-toned his gray double-breasted coat (he's retired now) and hurried across the room to confer with his blond, ex-movie actress wife. She happened to be sitting directly behind me.

"Dear," said the general, "do that robe have a monogram?"

Mrs. Meyers blinked her eyes in thought and said finally that if it did, she didn't remember it "Thanks," the general replied This is important, obviously, but as a dazed taxpayer I'm danged if I know why.

Roving Reports

NEW YORK

TOO ill to attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Philip Mountbatten tomorrow is another British princess who once proposed to a man—and got turned down.

She is Elizabeth's aunt, Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, and, so far as I know, the only British princess royal who ever got jilted

The tale requires a little background:

An ironbound convention among those born to the purple is that women of royal birth, if they want to marry a man beneath their rank, must do the asking themselves

This, of course, is to protect the royal maids from being besieged by empty-pocketed gentry. If no such rule existed, every commoner with a hole in his stocking might go around proposing to princesses—on the odd chance he'd find one willing to share her castle and well-stocked icebox

BOYLE

When Elizabeth decided on Philip, therefore, it was up to her to pop the $64 question It is a pretty safe bet, however, that she didn't ask him over to Buckingham palace for a home-cooked meal, and then melt him down to butter with a direct:

"Will you, Phil?"

IN ROYAL CIRCLES they are more subtle and work it on a Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance basis The regal lady calls in a court intermediary and says, in effect: 'That guy really sends me. Go see if he won't let me buy him a wedding ring." And the twittering intermediary flies back and forth like a passenger pigeon until the deal's sealed.

"A marriage has been arranged —" the court chronicle then announces.

This system worked well for Elizabeth's great-great grandmother, Queen Victoria, who thus won the man on the tobacco can—Prince Albert—and bore him four sons and five daughters

But Mary, the present princess royal and sister of the king, didn't wait for any intermediary to act for her.

She was sweet 16 at the time, a true daughter of the strong-willed ruling British tribe, and the man of her choice was the grizzled hero of Khartoum, Lord Kitchener.

HE WAS 62 years old, but every girl in England adored the stern, tall, arrow-straight military leader.

Home from a campaign in Egypt, Kitchener was escorting Princess Mary about the grounds of Windsor castle when the infatuated young girl blushingly proposed to him.

She said that, although it embarrassed her, she realized royal custom decreed that in such cases the woman must speak first. S-o-o-o-o, would he be her husband?

Smiling at this unexpected hero worship, Kitchener gently pointed out the difference in their ages When the little princess eagerly assured him that made no difference, the hard-pressed warrior suggested diplomatically that perhaps she had better talk the matter over with her father, King George V.

LATER KITCHENER informed the king of the naive proposal and the monarch roared with laughter But when the king told Queen Mary she didn't see anything funny in it, and the little princess got a week's imprisonment in her own room.

Lord Kitchener was lost when the cruiser Hampshire hit a mine in 1916. Princess Mary in 1922 married one of England's wealthiest men, the Earl of Harewood, who died last May

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—The stock market sought to extend its every move today although a number of pivotal issues ignored the upsurge.

Selected industrials gave leadership to the advance in fairly active early dealings. Gain or occasional declines persisting.

Commission houses reported the bidding was attributed to speculations the President's program for reinstatement of some controls would be sharply revised by congress. A measure of short coverings and buying in expectation of a technical comeback continued, while tax selling was accompanied by considerable switching of accounts. Another big batch of favorable dividend actions appeared.

Prominent gainers included Goodrich (after a special dividend declaration), Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, International Harvester, Western Union, Baltimore & Ohio, Texas Co., Certain Pasco, United Aircraft, American Can and Southern Railway. Phillips Petroleum dipped as the company offered additional common shares to its stockholders. Others lagging included American Telephone and Dow Chemical.

PGA Smoothes Trouble, Cruises Into Business

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 19—The Professional Golfers' Association, having smoothed out its family trouble, which included Vic Ghezzi's disturbance over Ryder team selections, today cruised serenely into routine business minus any signs of storm warnings.

Ben Hogan, who has contended he would like to meet Freddie Corcoran, PGA promotion director, "man-to-man" to settle differences, was limiting his swinging to a teaching clinic today, a high-spot on the annual meeting's agenda.

Corcoran, who has denied charges of mixing up little Ben in a political move to unseat Ed Dudley as president, so far has not appeared on the scene and is not expected to do so. Corcoran remained in New York.

The PGA executive committee diplomatically called Ghezzi on the carpet to air his grievance of being left off "intentionally" from the 1947 Ryder cup squad. Ghezzi, making public his hurt feelings beforehand, had been threatened with expulsion from the organization for breaking the "code of ethics" which forbids PGA members beefing for general consumption. All complaints are expected to be off the record and settled before the executive board.

Ghezzi, after explaining his feelings to the executive body in a secret session, emerged "satisfied with the explanations" and a member still in good standing.

The executive board included Dudley, who earlier yesterday was elected president for the seventh year in balloting of about 70 delegates. The faction booming Horton Smith for the office was crushed in the landslide.

The naming of 38 tournaments for the 1948 season with a prize list totaling $550,000 was pending official sanction for release.
